

FIRST BLOODSHED IN MEXICAN REBELLION

Unaware of War, Captain of Federal Vessel Is Lured Ashore and Killed.

REBELS THEN SEIZE SHIP

Action at Ensenada, Whence Loyal Mayor Escaped in American Steamer.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 5.—Bloodshed has begun at Ensenada in the rebellion of Gov. Esteban Cantu against the Mexican Central Federal Government with the seizure by Cantu adherents of the Mexican patrol ship Tecate, the killing of Capt. Leonardo Zepeda of the Tecate and the arrest or slaying of the crew on Tuesday night, according to information brought to San Diego to-day by the power schooner Newark, Capt. A. H. Moore.

Coupled with the opening of hostilities on the Federal Government is the seizure of David Zarate, former Mayor of Ensenada and recently proposed as Governor to succeed Cantu. Zarate arrived in San Diego aboard the Newark, taking his life to refuge afforded by the word of the rebellion had not yet reached the patrol boat, three Cantu officials invited Capt. Zepeda ashore for dinner. When he had landed one of the three seized him and one both of the others fired bullets into his body. Yesterday the entire crew of the Tecate was said to be missing and Cantu soldiers were in possession of the boat.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 5.—Unconditional surrender was demanded of Gov. Esteban Cantu by the representatives of Provisional President de la Huerta, who recently conferred with him at Mexicali. It was said also that if Cantu immediately ceased activities against the Federal Government and retired from the Governorship he would be restored to a colonelcy in the Federal army, a position he formerly held. Those statements were made by Ricardo Cuevas, an attaché of the Government's agency, who said he was quoting Juan Platt, one of de la Huerta's representatives at the conference.

In an open letter to Cantu, made public to-day, Capt. Rafael C. Silver, another attaché of the de la Huerta agency, charged the Governor held in virtual slavery "many thousands of citizens, who were required to pay him an annual head tax of $40 each. Senior Ruiz announced receipt of communications from de la Huerta giving assurance of protection to life, lives and property and promised the return to its owners of all property the Cantu forces might confiscate. It also promised protection to the irrigation system of the Imperial Valley and requested Senior Ruiz to assure protection of life and property to American, English, Russian, Japanese and Chinese residents of Lower California.

782 RUSSIAN WAIFS SAIL FOR PANAMA

'Children's Ark' on Second Lap of Long Journey.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 5.—The second lap of the long sea journey from Siberia to Petrograd was undertaken to-day by 782 Russian children when the Japanese liner Yomei Maru, chartered by the American Red Cross and designated as the "Children's Ark," weighed anchor in San Francisco Bay and steamed for the Panama Canal.

The children arrived here Monday and were the guests of the city and the Red Cross chapters for three days. They obtained their first concrete impressions of America on sightseeing trips, in the city parks and playgrounds. Gifts of toys, fruit and candy were showered upon them during their stay. The children, several of whom were said to be offspring of nobility, became separated from their parents early in the world war. They were sent into Siberia during the several revolutionary movements. At the end of the war it was found impossible to return them overland to Petrograd because of the collapse of Russian transportation and unsettled conditions in that country. The Red Cross assembled them at Vladivostok from many points and chartered the Yomei Maru to carry them home by sea. The ship will stop at New York.

NAVY WORKERS ASK RAISE

Number Must Be Reduced If Demand Is Granted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Representatives of 80,000 navy yard workers in forty-three navy yards in the country appeared before the Navy Wage Board to-day to urge an immediate increase in wages of approximately 40 per cent. They asked that the average wage be increased to $1.05 an hour, which they said was 5 cents an hour less than workers in the same trades received from private industry.

More than 200 spokesmen for the workers waited to be heard and the board decided to hear them in the alphabetical order of their trades. It was expected that the hearings would be concluded Saturday. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt told the board and the workers that in view of the fact that the appropriations for the pay of navy yard workers were fixed by law it would be necessary to drop employees in direct proportion to the amount of increase granted. The representatives of the men said they would not object to such curtailment of the navy yard forces, as there were plenty of positions open outside for men discharged.

HIRED BRAIN TO TAKE NAVAL ACADEMY TEST

Youth Got Another to Sit for Him in Examination.

SPECIAL TO THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD. ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 5.—Having failed twice to pass the mental tests for entrance to the Naval Academy, a youth who was permitted to take the examination on condition that he would undergo the examination in June. The substitution was discovered, and the appointments of both cancelled. The names of the offenders were not made public.

The first candidate failed in both the February and April examinations, and in June persuaded a candidate who had passed in April to take the examination under the former's name before the Civil Service Board in Baltimore. The papers fell into the hands of examiners at the Naval Academy, who had gone over the papers which the second candidate had submitted for himself. A careful comparison indicated that they had been written by the same person, and both youths confessed.

TRAP ALL SET FOR WOMAN KIDNAPPER

Coughlin Baby Will Be Recovered Within Few Hours, Police Now Say.

COMPARE FINGER PRINTS

Pasquale Is Now Charged With Being Leader in Theft of Child.

SPECIAL TO THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Blackie Coughlin, 15 months old kidnapped baby, probably is alive, August E. Pasquale, arrested as "the crank" who obtained $12,000 ransom money from George H. Coughlin, the father, is accused of being the actual kidnapper of the child. His principal accomplice is a woman whose arrest is expected momentarily. Finger prints of this woman, obtained from the window sill of the Coughlin house are in the hands of an expert.

State troopers, accompanied by postal inspectors are now engaged in searching for this woman. With her apprehension they hope to find the child. George A. Leonard, chief postal inspector, and Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the constabulary, are heading the forces which are seeking to capture the woman accomplice.

Pasquale, a foreigner with a long criminal record, is in Pennsylvania, it is believed his denture have been broken and that he is soon to help the police to recover the baby.

Ready to Spring Trap.

A trap has been prepared by the authorities working on the case, by means of which they hope to catch all those implicated in the abduction. It may be sprung at any moment, but the probability is that it will be withheld for at least twenty-four hours.

The moment the baby is returned or the accomplices in the kidnapping are arrested "the crack" and his associates will be rushed either to Norristown or Philadelphia for preliminary hearing. It is considered almost a certainty that they will be taken to the former place and arraigned on the charge of abduction.

A detail of six State troopers has been stationed in Norristown since the beginning of the week. It is working secretly on a separate angle of the case. Attempts are being made to connect Pasquale with a mysterious man seen in Norristown and in the vicinity before the kidnapping.

Fingerprints of Pasquale were compared to-day with impressions taken at the Coughlin home. According to Captain of Detectives Souder and Postal Inspector McVicker, the impressions are not the same. The authorities are tracing all funds he had by Pasquale in the hope of arranging a return of at least a portion of the $12,000 took from Coughlin.

Full Details of Capture.

Pasquale was released from the Philadelphia county prison on March 26, at which time he had $426. After the middle of June, when Coughlin deposited the ransom money, Pasquale appeared at a rooming house at 323 North Seventh street with a large supply of money. Since that time he has displayed either bills or checks for sums running into the thousands of dollars. He is unable to explain satisfactorily how he came into possession of these sums.

Further details concerning the arrest of Pasquale came to light to-day. The actual capture was accomplished single handed by John Geesok, a State trooper. It was Geesok who was stationed at picket number 13, within a few feet of where "the crank" flew his signal, and it was he who watched the whole performance go through by Pasquale.

When Pasquale picked up the fake ransom package thrown from the train Geesok pounced upon him, and after a struggle, managed to subdue him. He threw the kidnapper to the ground, planted his knees on his chest and with a revolver waited one-half hour until the reserve forces, under command of Major Lynn G. Adams, came on the scene. With Major Adams were Capt. Gerhart and Lieut. Snyder, all of the State constabulary.

The signal that the man had been captured was flashed down the railroad by means of successive revolver shots fired by the guards. The signal was started the minute the forces came up to where Pasquale was pinned to the earth and within a few seconds he traversed a distance of nine miles to the spot where an automobile was in readiness. The car was rushed up the road to the spot nearest where the man was captured and he was loaded in under guard and taken to Philadelphia. For four days before the trap was to be sprung members of the State constabulary refrained from shaving. Their faces were worn by them at the time they left to picket the length of the railroad. The purpose of the rough appearance was to lure any suspicious that Pasquale might have, should he chance to see any of them.

DR. COSBY REFUSES FOOD; IN HOSPITAL

New York Physician Found Ill on Street in Baltimore.

SPECIAL TO THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD. BALTIMORE, Aug. 5.—Dr. John B. Cosby, 43 years old, a New York physician, was found ill on the street yesterday. He was taken to the University Hospital, and physicians said he was suffering from exhaustion due to lack of food. He refused to eat.

Before Justice Hanft to-day Dr. Cosby first said he came to this city yesterday to aid a friend who was in jail. Pressed for the name of the friend, Dr. Cosby said he had forgotten it. Later he said he came here to visit a family on North street. The family in question is away from the city, he told the Justice.

To prove his claim that he was a physician and that his home was in New York, Dr. Cosby produced a bank book showing that he lived at 170 West 186th street.

Police Captain Cole took the case up with the Federal Charles and communicated with Bourke Cockran, whom Dr. Cosby mentioned as a close friend.

Bank Employees Accused.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5.—Frank Herbert, 29, and Joseph Pekorny, 19, employees of the First National Bank of this city were formally charged with grand larceny to-day in connection with the robbery of $18,000 worth of bonds while in transit from the bank to the Second National Bank of Toledo several days ago. The bonds are said to have been sold in Chicago for $12,000.
